Extra Value AT NO EXTRA COST

You don't pay any more for the extra values built into a new Ford . . . values that mean less trouble, more driving fun.

Value . . . Ford's twice-a-year maintenance schedule frees you from the bother and expense of frequent servicing. Service is scheduled only twice a year, or every 6,000 miles.* You'll go 36,000 miles between major lube . . . 6,000 miles between oil changes, and minor lube . . . and brakes are self-adjusting.

Value . . . no-charge extras—like the 36,000-mile (or 2-year) coolant-antifreeze . . . and Full-Flow oil filter.

Outstanding value . . . Ford's new car warranty.† Ford Motor Company offers a 24-month, 24,000-mile warranty. Virtually all parts (see below) are covered for the full two years or 24,000 miles . . . and no strict, pre-established service routine is required to keep this warranty valid.

These are values that make Ford a better buy, now, and will result in more trouble-free driving pleasure in the future.

*Maintenance schedule is based on normal driving conditions. Severe driving conditions may require more frequent service. †Warranty is limited to defects in materials and workmanship. It does not cover damage caused by accident, abuse, neglect, or misuse. It also does not cover wear and tear items. For complete details, see the full warranty booklet.
